

2019 Ring Finders' Signup Form

Guidelines for Ring Finders

1. All Ring Finders are volunteers and can choose which hunts to attend. Members are responsible for their own expenses such as gas, tolls, and parking. Failure to abide by these guidelines will result in the member's removal from the Ring Finders' call out list.
2. Members must have paid their SRARC dues and be registered as both a club member and Ring Finder. Callouts are emailed, so each volunteer must provide a current email address.
3. To be counted as a hunter, you must be actively operating a metal detector on the hunt.
4. All lost item requests, whether it be from theringfinders.com, Facebook, or the club website will be handled as club functions and all proceeds will be deposited in the club treasury.
5. All lost item referrals to the club shall be forwarded to the list of volunteers via email.
6. A time and location will be determined by the organizing member.
7. The hunt will start once all members who have responded have arrived at the designated time and location. Hunting the designated area prior to the designated time is prohibited and will result in the individual's removal from the Ring Finders.
8. Any money donated will be turned over to the club regardless of who received it. Never refuse a donation, gratefully accept it and turn it in to the treasurer. Place the money in an envelope and write the donating person's name on the outside.
9. Club members are free to create their own website or social media sites to advertise their personal recovery services, but may not mention SRARC in them. To prevent any conflict of interest, the member will be removed from the Ring Finders callout list for as long as these sites exist.
10. You must be active in at least 10% of the hunts to be included in any Ring Finders appreciation events.
11. Volunteers will be required to sign up each year so that the list of volunteer contacts can be kept current.

Note: If you recover an item that is not associated with an organized Ring Finders event, any reward offered is yours to do with as you see fit.
